ASSAULT AND BATTERY

COLONEL RUBE ARNOLD, HIS SON AND BROTHER FOUND GUILTY.

The East Point Rioters to Be Put on Trial This Afternoon—A Witness Who Said the Lord Was With Her.

Colonel Rube Arnold, Frank A. Arnold and Rube Arnold, Jr., were found guilty of assault and battery in the superior court yesterday. They were tried on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

John L. Conley, as has already been printed, was the assaulted party, and the principal witness in the prosecution.

Colonel Albert Cox, for the defendants, spoke when court opened yesterday morning, his argument completing the case.

Judge Clarke charged the jury very plainly and concisely, giving them the law on every point of the case.

The jury was out about two hours and a verdict was reached and directed by the judge that they might find the Messrs. Arnold guilty of a lower grade of crime—a misdemeanor instead of a felony, if they could not agree upon the charge in the indictment.

Soon after receiving this direction the jury returned a verdict of assault and battery.

Judge Clarke did not pass sentence upon the defendants but reserved it until today, or possibly longer. It is more than probable that the Messrs. Arnold will be sentenced today.

The penalty for the offense of which the Messrs. Arnold were convicted is fine and imprisonment, either one or both.

A new trial may be moved, but as yet this has not been definitely determined upon by the defendants and their attorneys.

EAST POINT WHIPPERS.
The trial of the East Point rioters was called as soon as the Arnold jury returned its verdict.

Judge Dorsey, counsel for one of the defendants, was unable to be present on account of being engaged in another court, and the case was continued until this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when it will be put on trial without further postponement or delay.

Attorneys for other of the defendants were present, and after considerable argument, it was decided to try the defendants separately.

E. P. Bridgely will be the first to go on trial. He is charged with the assault on John L. Conley.

Mr. Bridgely, one of the parties to the indictment, who was under one thousand dollars bond, will not be tried. He has forfeited his bond, not being present in court when the case was called.

A number of witnesses have been summoned in the case, and the trial will doubtless be interesting.

AN AMUSING WITNESS.
George Washington Crockett was put on trial yesterday afternoon in the criminal court charged with a criminal assault.

One of the witnesses was an old negro woman named Lucy Spear.

She was a witness that didn't need much jogging, but knew, or thought she knew, all about the case, and was only too anxious to be allowed to rattle off.

And she told her story loud enough to be heard in Judge Van Epps's court room.

But when Solicitor Hill did get a query in edgewise the old woman was always ready for him with replies that were somewhat startling in their originality to say the least.

In the course of her evidence she said something about being a church member and as how the Lord was with her side in the case.

"Ize a 'spectable culd 'oman, an' Ize nebbin' bin in er cote frum de time Ize borned," she said.

"You say the Lord is in this case?" asked Solicitor Hill.

"Yessir, de Lawd am in hit. He—"

"But how do you know the Lord has anything to do with this case?"

"Kase I does—de Lawd's interested in you an' He kin strike you deaf dum 'n paralyze er he wants ter."

Then the courtroom rang with laughter at the solicitor's expense.

"That'll do; you can come down."

HAVE YOU REGISTERED?
The Sewer and Waterworks Bonds Election and the Registration of the City of Atlanta.

The registration books will close Saturday night. Only three more days remain for the tax-payers to qualify themselves.

The election is the most important Atlanta has had in years, and it is essential that every property owner should cast his vote.

But registration is necessary.

There are three sets of registration books in the city.

One is at the city hall.

Another is on Broad street, near Alabama.

And another on Peachtree, near Marietta.

At each place books for each of the wards are supplied, and a voter can register at either place.

The waterworks and sewer bonds are one of the most important issues Atlanta has long had.

SHOT THREE TIMES.

A JOURNALIST AND AN ATTORNEY HAVE A FIGHT.

The Report of the S. H. Phelan Case Printed in the Constitution Results in a Street Fight.

GRiffin, Ga., April 16.—[Special.]—A new and highly sensational feature was added to the S. H. Phelan case in this city today.

It was the shooting of Judge Dismuke by H. B. Brown.

Judge Dismuke was on the bench, when Mr. Phelan first appeared in the Griffin court, and Mr. Brown was present to report the case for THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

E. M. Drewery is THE CONSTITUTION's correspondent at Griffin but when the trial of Mr. Phelan was called Mr. Drewery was busily engaged and requested Mr. Brown, a Griffin journalist, to write the case for him.

Mr. Brown did as requested and that night wired his story of the trial to Georgia's great daily.

That story was the cause of the shooting.

The story as printed in THE CONSTITUTION did not please Judge Dismuke and early this morning he expressed himself, asserting that it was wholly untrue.

The judge knew that Mr. Brown had written the story and when the two gentlemen came together and as they approached, Mr. Brown drew his pistol, and when within a few feet of the colonel began firing.

Colonel Dismuke was carrying a cane, and as Mr. Brown came near began using it over that gentleman's head.

The report of the pistol attracted a crowd, and by them the combatants were separated.

Then it was ascertained that Colonel Dismuke had been shot three times.

Mr. Brown had been badly used up with the cane.

Both men were taken to surgeons, who dressed the wounds.

Colonel Dismuke's wounds are not dangerous but all three are painful.

One ball took effect in the thigh, one in the hand and one in the left shoulder.

Mr. Brown was terribly beaten up.

The Phelan case, out of which this trouble grew, has been freely discussed on the streets today.

Mr. Phelan went to his home in Atlanta last night, but returned here at 1 o'clock today for trial, accompanied by Messrs. Porter King, J. A. Colvin, Donald M. Baine, E. W. Martin and others.

At 2 o'clock they appeared before Esquire J. F. Stillwell to answer the charge of doing business without a license, and failing to register with the ordinary.

Owing to the absence of Colonel E. W. Hammond, leading prosecuting attorney, the case was postponed until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

There were two more warrants served on Mr. Phelan late this afternoon, the appearance bond being assessed at $200 and $300 respectively in each case.

The assertion in this morning's issue of THE CONSTITUTION that "the course of the prosecution had gained many friends in Griffin," was too broad.

While he says he has some sympathizers, this is the best that can be said for him, so far as the feeling of the people are concerned. This was an unfortunate digression from the true facts.

PICKETT ALSO ARRESTED.
COLUMBUS, Ga., April 16.—[Special.]—Manager Pickett, of the cotton and produce exchange, returned to the city this morning, and is doing all in his power to bring about a just and equitable settlement of all claims against the exchange.

During the day he has been at the exchange trying to arrange for a settlement with all parties interested.

Pickett was seen going to a prominent law office, and this action on his part caused the creditors to suspect that he was arranging to resist the payment of demands against the exchange.

Accordingly, warrants for his arrest under the charge of cheating and swindling, were sworn out. He was arrested and is now in custody of a bailiff.

He will have a hearing before Justice Wheeler Williams on Saturday. McDonald was arrested and carried back to Americus.

A BIG SURPLUS.
The Capital City Bank Makes its Fifth Semi-Annual Statement.

Seventy-seven thousand dollars is what the fifth semi-annual statement of the Capital City bank shows that institution's surplus to be.

In the two and one-half years of the bank's existence it has paid sixty-four thousand dollars in dividends.

There are very few similar concerns that can make such a showing.

The Capital City bank and Cashier Jacob Haas are well known to the city.

Mr. George Allen, a well known mechanic was seriously hurt by the falling of some scaffolding on a new building near the Technological school yesterday morning.

Some of the supports gave way, and Mr. Allen was precipitated to the ground. He sustained serious injuries, having a leg and arm broken.

He was carried to his home and given every attention. His injuries are not of a necessarily fatal character, but quite serious, and may prove permanent.

Despite the rain, the opera house had one of the largest audiences of the season to witness the MacCollin Opera company in the "The King's Musketeers."

This opera was produced here several years ago by the Ford Opera company, then considered the strongest comic opera organization that traveled the south.

The performance was in every way superior last night. The choruses were given with a vim and dash seldom heard in an opera performance.

It would be difficult to find a better performance than that given by the MacCollin company. Miss Fannie Hall, as Louise de Pontecourly, was seen at her best.

Her singing and acting elicited great applause.

MEMORIAL DAY.

INQUIRIES STILL BEING MADE ABOUT THE ARRANGEMENTS.

The Veterans Asking About Their Quarters—A Call to the 38th Georgia Regiment—Judge Calhoun's Card.

All the gentlemen who are connected with Memorial Day are now having as much work as they can attend to.

Every day letters are being received asking about the rates which have been granted by the railroads and also about the accommodations which will be provided for the old soldiers.

The camp which will be located at Grant park will furnish shelter for an army of veterans.

The Georgia Association has granted one fare for the round trip.

Captain W. D. Ellis received the following letter yesterday. It will explain itself and show that the Western and Atlantic railroad is ready to do its part towards getting the old confederates and their former leaders together again for a hearty handshake.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 16, 1890.—Captain W. D. Ellis, Chief of the Georgia Association, Atlanta, Ga.: Yours of 15th inst. relative to rates to Atlanta and return on the occasion of Memorial Day, April 25th, I beg to advise that for all trains of April 24th and 25th, and for morning trains of April 26th, we will sell round trip tickets to Atlanta and return, according to rates authorized by Southern Passenger Association. These tickets will be on sale to all who desire to come to Atlanta, and it will be necessary for parties to ask our agents for tickets to secure them. Yours truly,

ALFRED A. ALLEN, General Passenger Agent.

The following call to the Thirty-eighth Georgia regiment was also issued yesterday:

ATTENTION, THIRTY-EIGHTH GEORGIA.
The surviving members of the old Thirty-eighth Georgia are cordially invited to be present on the morning of April 25th, in Atlanta, to participate in memorial exercises. J. W. McCurdy, Pres. 38th Ga. Veterans' Ass'n.

THE GEORGIA DOCTORS

MEET IN ANNUAL CONVENTION IN BRUNSWICK.

Regrets Telegraphed to Dr. J. B. S. Holmes That He Could Not Attend—The Excursion Around the Harbor.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., April 16.—[Special.]—The Georgia Medical Association convened in its forty-first annual session this morning, in L'Arlotte opera house.

The visiting members of the association began to arrive Monday, and from that day until this evening, every train has brought scores of attendants to the association.

The committee, for weeks past, has been busy making arrangements to give the doctors a royal reception.

THE BODY IN SESSION.
Promptly at 10 o'clock the association was called to order by Dr. J. S. Todd, of Atlanta. Rev. E. F. Golden was then introduced and prayer was delivered.

W. E. Kay delivered the address of welcome. After several members had addressed the body, Dr. Todd moved that the association telegraph regrets to Dr. J. B. S. Holmes, of Rome, inasmuch as he was unable to attend. The body then adjourned until tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

AROUND THE HARBOR.
In pursuance to the arrangements of the local committee, the members of the association, together with a number of invited guests, left this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the steamer Pope Catlin for an excursion around the harbor.

The steamer returned to the city this evening at 8. All were delighted with the trip, though it was a little cool returning.

The programme for tomorrow is far more interesting than the one of today. The grand banquet and toast at the Oglethorpe hotel will be the crowning event of the meeting. Every hotel in the city is filled.

The Sale Did Not Take Place.
GRiffin, Ga., April 16.—[Special.]—The advertised sale of the Griffin ice factory did not take place yesterday, for the reason that Mr. M. T. Bergen, one of the members of the firm, who is a Columbus capitalist, has bought the entire plant and now becomes the sole owner. Mr. Bergen was in the city and said that they would be fully prepared to supply the demand for ice in this section this summer, as work had already begun to get the machinery in fine order for the increased work that will now ensue.

ATLANTA, GA., APRIL 17, 1890.

Atlanta's Phenomenal Growth.

The article in last Sunday's CONSTITUTION showing $8,000,000 worth of building improvements under contract in Atlanta for the present year is still the talk of the hour.

The statistics presented were on such a large scale that they required time for consideration. It was a staggering statement to say that our people were about to put $6,000,000 into new homes and $2,000,000 into several big enterprises.

But there was a greater surprise in store. It was found that the article did not embrace all the improvements for the year. One plant alone is absolutely certain to cost $200,000. The work at the barracks will run to about $100,000. The Grand monument will make a $30,000 item. And so it runs. The list will be a long one when it is made complete.

So it is safe to say that the eight million dollar total is too small. We are going to eclipse the record of any two, or possibly three years, in our history.

The enthusiasm over this wonderful growth is not confined to Atlanta. It is spreading. People in other towns read the figures in Sunday's paper, and inside of three days some of them turned property into cash, or drew their money from the bank, and headed straight for Atlanta. Some of these outsiders purchased houses and lots here on the day of their arrival, and before the week is out will have new buildings under contract.

Population, capital and enterprise will be rushing in all this year. This majestic leap forward of our city has impressed people more deeply than any amount of booming would have done.

The most sanguine man with his liberal estimate is likely to fall short of the mark. This phenomenal progress will bring more in its wake than we dream of now. At this rate of speed there will be practically a new Atlanta here in a year or two!

Delay Is Dangerous.

We are glad to say that the result of the two days' subscriptions to the exposition fund is satisfactory.

We are glad to know, also, that there is no lack of spirit nor enthusiasm among the people who are waiting for the committees to call, and are ready to respond.

We urge upon the members of the various committees the importance of proceeding with the work of canvassing for the exposition fund. The business men have been put on notice that these committees would call during the week. One committee received nearly $1,500 in a few hours canvass.

We publish elsewhere a list of the committees appointed by President Wythe. These gentlemen are all well known citizens, and have never wavered in working for the glory and prosperity of Atlanta. The name of each member is written in the history of the city, and more representative committees could not have been chosen. We urge upon each member, individually, the importance of continuing the work of the canvassing.

But little more than $5,000 is necessary, in addition to what has already been subscribed to raise a fund sufficiently large to meet the preliminary expenses of the exposition. It is absolutely necessary that this fund be subscribed before any material progress can be made in arranging for the next exposition.

Delay is dangerous, and every day lost impairs that much the success of the exposition. Nothing can be done until a preliminary fund is assured. It ought to be the work of only a few hours, and it will be, if the committees will give only that time to it.

Let each of the committee give a part of today to the work. Atlanta calls, and no man ought to refuse to answer her call!

We are anxious to report a big subscription in tomorrow's paper, and we believe the committees will help us to do so.

Abandoned New England Farms.

Commissioner A. B. Valentine, of Vermont, has been making a special inquiry into the number and extent of the abandoned farms of the state, and an abstract of his report has been given out. In the towns from which returns have been received, there are at least one thousand abandoned farms, containing one hundred and eighteen thousand acres of land, that can be bought at prices ranging from $3 to $5 an acre. The majority of these farms contain buildings said to be in fair condition.

Many towns, however, have failed to make returns, and the commissioner is driven to make estimates based on reports already received. According to these estimates, the total of vacant and unoccupied land in Vermont, exclusive of timber lands, is equal to about five hundred thousand acres. The Springfield Republican thinks it would be safe to conclude from this that there are now in the state of Vermont from two thousand to three thousand vacant farms once under cultivation, but now abandoned, with their houses, barns and fences, to desolation and decay.

There must be some reason for this condition of things, and so the commissioner, with a wild sweep backward into history, charges it all to the "democratic free trade policy from 1836 to 1860." From a generalization so broad as this, it is possible to write a bulky volume. It would be an unsatisfactory one, however. The probability is that the tariff, or the lack of tariff, had nothing whatever to do with the blight that has fallen on the agriculture of Vermont and other New England states. Whatever the cause, it is special and not general, and it is only since 1870 that the matter has attracted attention. There may be several special causes.

Farm life in New England, if those historians, the novelists, are to be believed, is exceptionally narrow and monotonous. One can get a glimpse of it in hundreds of New England stories. One result of this has been to drive away the young men, who would naturally be expected to take the place of their fathers. Their education and their culture (which seems to be an every day affair in that region) made them restless and dissatisfied. With thousands of opportunities open to their energy and their ambition, it is not to be supposed that they would be willing to go on in the old hum-drum fashion, tilling an ungrateful soil, and standing around the meeting house Sundays.

The Old Man and the Youngster.

An old man—a college president—has written an elaborate article on what a boy should know at eighteen.

The venerable pedagogue would have the youngster well advanced in mathematics, history and literature. The boy at the age of eighteen should have a fair knowledge of Greek and Latin, and be master of French and German. He should also know something of music, and be ready to make progress in art studies.

It would be interesting to hear from the eighteen-year-old. The matter deeply concerns him, and he should speak up.

The average American boy of eighteen is intellectually a man. He is ambitious, bright and quick, and has some idea of his future career. Nine times out of ten he believes that his studies should be made to fit him for some business or professional specialty. If he has time for modern languages he will very likely say that in view of the rapid development of the South American countries, Spanish will be more useful than German. French he will not object to because it will always be the favorite language of society. But a brainy and promising boy will sometimes turn his back upon all foreign languages, music and art, and rigidly limit his equipment to his chosen occupation. The mental capacity of such a youth should not be underrated. Just such men have achieved brilliant success in business, in politics and even in literature.

The American boy standing on the edge of manhood has some such ideas flitting through his brain, and he should be encouraged to express them. The college president of seventy who talks down to him belongs to a past age. He is not in sympathy with the rush of our busy life, and he does not recognize the fact that the work of the world is now carried on by specialists, while the "Admirable Christmases," the men of an all-round education, dream over their books, or lean back and criticize the startling methods of the giants around them.

An old man cannot tell what a youngster should know. It would be just as reasonable to expect the youngster to tell what an old man should know. In this fast age they represent, not two generations, but two centuries, so far as the distance between them is concerned.

Honoring Lee.

It is to be feared that a mistake has been made in sending invitations to certain northern military organizations to participate in the unveiling of the Lee monument at Richmond.

A New York special to the Richmond Times says that no northern regiment would dare to outrage public sentiment by assisting at exercises in laudation of Lee.

This statement can hardly be true. Brave and magnanimous northern soldiers would be willing to outrage any public sentiment un-American, malignant and mean. The better class of union veterans admire Lee, and the yelping of a pack of curs would not deter them from visiting Richmond, if they received an invitation, and found it convenient to go.

But the Richmond committee, rising above sectionalism, in a moment of generous enthusiasm, made the mistake of supposing that the bummers, camp followers and south-haters would gladly recognize the name of Lee as a part of the country's common glory.

There are times when we must be a little guarded in our choice of visitors. When we throw flowers on the graves of our dead, we must keep jackals away, and when we raise monuments to our patriots no vandals are wanted.

We must pick out brave men and gentlemen when we cultivate the spirit of comradeship. We must first be sure that we are addressing genuine Americans before we talk about peace and good will. The old soldiers who fought against us are our friends; the old robbers and their allies who plundered and oppressed us are still our foes, and will be to the end of the chapter.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Richmond Star, speaking of the unveiling of the Lee monument, says: "But among them all there will be no truer leader, no more gallant gentleman than he whose hand shall direct these ceremonies—the war veteran, Jabel A. Early. When others fled, he stood firm; when others were false, he was true; loyal ever to the cause he led he stands today the faithful guardian and defender of the truth of history, the calm, determined vindicator of his people's wrongs. Laid to rest modestly in his grave, he is the guardian of the records of a crusade which was led by a knight as spotless as Godfrey de Bouillon, and whose banner, so long triumphant on every field, was the southern cross. There is no man today who holds a warmer place in the hearts of southern people than this ever-trusted, ever-faithful preserver and defender of the eternal truth of history and of the untarnished glory of their deeds. He is the gray-haired, gray-bearded prophet of the confederacy."

THE NEW YORK WORLD publishes a highly sensational story which purports to furnish an explanation of the influence which Judge Hilton exercised over Alexander Stewart, the merchant prince. It asserts that it was founded in a crime involving the honor of a woman, and that Hilton, in avenging the disaster to Stewart, which would have resulted from an exposure of the affair, gained the power which enabled him to exact $300,000 from the millionaire's estate. The World says that the contest over the Stewart will be reopened in the courts, and if this proves to be true Judge Hilton will have to make another "divvy" with the lawyers. Alexander Stewart resided in much wealth, and his money as a man could expect who makes its accumulation an end rather than a means for the accomplishment of good.

IN SOME PARTS OF Europe a new and strange disease called ananias has appeared. It suddenly attacks a man and throws him into a profound slumber from which he may or may not awake. This sleep is often mistaken for death, and the patient is buried alive. The reports concerning the malady are perhaps exaggerated. At all events this sleep disease has not yet caused any great number of deaths.

GLIMPSES OF GEORGIA LIFE.

Editor Anderson, railroad magnate of Covington, says THE CONSTITUTION shall have the first free ride over his new railroad.

It is not often that the Georgia editor drops into poetry; but here is a good sample, practical and straight to the point:

 He'd live in the hall below,
 If some of his readers heard his prayers,
 And settled the bills they owe.

POLITICAL NEWS.

—Elberton Gazette: General Frank W. Smith has abandoned the idea of running for the legislature.

—Bowersville Bulletin: Hon. B. B. Parker is spoken of as a suitable candidate for the senate from the district of which he is now a member.

—It is predicted that Editor John H. Magill of the Hartwell Sun, will make a lively race for the legislature.

—Mr. Mallory J. Thornton, of Elberton, is a candidate for sheriff.

—Columbus Equivocal-Sun: Owing to the passing of the great array of candidates, the grass will have little chance to grow in Georgia this year.

—Gwinnett Herald: Judge J. R. Brown, of Canton, is on the stump. He spoke in Union county. He does not say that he is a candidate for congress, but his friends do for him.

—Gwinnett Herald: It is Walton's time to elect a state senator, and from what we can gather, Colonel J. M. Walton and Mr. Joe Nunnally, president of the Walton County Alliance, will be the candidates. A lively tussle is expected.

—Athens Banner: Dr. J. E. S. Lyndon says he will not call a primary election for some months yet, so as to give the candidates an opportunity to do their work. There will certainly be a nomination, however, which completely plumps the colored voter and his fluency out of the ring. The day for laying and selling votes is passed in our city and county, we hope never to return.

—Athens Banner: The probability is that our neighbors up the country in North Georgia will have a large assortment of congressional candidates to select from. Nearly every county will furnish a few. But a man living below the Chattahoochee river should be nominated, as it is from these counties that the vote must come. THE FUND COMPLETED.

THE CHARLESTON LADIES SEND A CHECK.

Colonel John Waddell Receives an Unexpected Donation for the Soldiers' Graves on Johnson's Island.

The grave stones for the confederate dead on Johnson's Island are now all paid for. When the stones were shipped to their destination in the north, a small sum remained unpaid.

From an unexpected quarter Colonel John O. Waddell has received the needed sum and expects that there will be a sufficient surplus to place an ornamental railing around the place where the confederate heroes rest.

Some time ago Colonel Waddell received a letter from Colonel Zimmerman Davis, president of the Survivors' association of Charleston, stating that the action taken by the farmers of Georgia to place headstones on the graves of the confederate dead on Johnson's Island had been noticed by the Ladies' Memorial association of Charleston, and they wished to join in the work and mark the graves of the South Carolina dead.

In reply, Colonel Waddell wrote that stones had been ordered for all the graves, regardless of state regiments, and consequently there was nothing left for the ladies of Charleston to do.

Another letter was then received by Colonel Waddell, saying that the ladies of Charleston had collected $300 and offered it to the Georgia association.

Colonel Waddell wrote that the stones were all paid for, but there might be an additional expense of about $100 to get them in position. Colonel Waddell then received this letter: "SURVIVORS' ASSOCIATION, CHARLESTON DISTRICT, CHARLESTON, S. C., April 10, 1890.—Mr. John O. Waddell, Charleston, S. C.: Dear Sir: It was with great pleasure that the Ladies' Memorial association of Charleston, S. C., heard that the Georgia farmers had caused headstones to be placed on the graves of the confederate dead on Johnson's Island, and they cheerfully send you one hundred dollars to complete the cost of setting them up. I have the pleasure, therefore, of enclosing herewith check No. 300,174 of the First National bank here on the Seaboard National bank of New York, to your order for one hundred dollars. Please acknowledge receipt, as it is required as a voucher. It was a noble deed, which will be a source of pride to the survivors from all the southern states appreciate it, and thank you for it. Yours very sincerely, J. M. ZIMMERMAN DAVIS."

In reply, he wrote yesterday: "ATLANTA, Ga., April 16, 1890.—Colonel Zimmerman Davis, President Survivors' Association, Charleston, S. C.—My Dear Sir: Accept our grateful appreciation of your favor of the 10th instant, conveying check No. 300,174 of First National bank of your city on Seaboard National Bank of New York, for the sum of one hundred dollars, to assist in erecting head stones over confederate dead buried on Johnson Island in Lake Erie. The donation was timely and most generous, and of course we will be very glad to receive it. I have the pleasure, therefore, of enclosing herewith check No. 300,174 of the First National bank here on the Seaboard National bank of New York, to your order for one hundred dollars. Please acknowledge receipt, as it is required as a voucher. It was a noble deed, which will be a source of pride to the survivors from all the southern states appreciate it, and thank you for it. Yours very sincerely, J. M. ZIMMERMAN DAVIS."

In heart, in sympathy, in geographical position, South Carolina and Georgia are indissolubly connected by the strongest ties. To many of the glorious memories of comradeship, formed during the existence of a struggle as grand and as heroic as the world has ever known, the people of the two states are united. In the face of the most recent events, the most recent events of the war, at the Wilderness, 6th May, 1864, mutual respect and confidence was engendered, which, with no, can never be broken until the "silver chord is loosed."

But I had no idea of writing more to express our profound appreciation of your timely donation. Please present to your association assurances of our esteem. Sincerely yours, JOSEPH O. WADDELL, Chairman of Committee.

NO COLOR LINE IN HIS.

That San Francisco Man Who Wants to Marry a Negro Girl.

From the Sandersville, Ga., Progress.

A short time ago there appeared in THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION a letter from one James S. Moore of San Francisco, California, to Sheriff Thomas, of Atlanta, asking the name of the Georgia colored man who would pay $15,000 to any white man who would marry his daughter.

In answer to this letter, Mr. Lake Holt, of the firm of Holt & Bro., in this place, decided to answer the letter. He wrote to him, signing the name of Richard Knox, a colored man, and saying that he would like to know whether or not I was writing to the girl's parent, or whether this is something to be done by the community. I would like to know whether or not I was writing to the girl's parent, or whether this is something to be done by the community. I would like to know whether or not I was writing to the girl's parent, or whether this is something to be done by the community.

I would like to know whether or not I was writing to the girl's parent, or whether this is something to be done by the community. I would like to know whether or not I was writing to the girl's parent, or whether this is something to be done by the community.

This is a fine, healthy country, and I hope your daughter would have no objection to living here. The climate is fine, and with many mementoes and if parties hunting relics will correspond with him they can obtain it.

Mr. Holt replied for Knox, telling Moore to send his photograph. The photograph was received, and Moore is represented as a medium-sized man, a little stooped-shouldered and wearing a close-fitting black moustache and whiskers. Accompanying the picture was this, the second letter:

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Mr. Richard Knox:—Dear Sir: Yours of the 27th at hand and contents noted. And your delay is excused by you saying that you have been trying to investigate the matter. That is good, and I am glad you have. You say you would like to come west, but that the people out here would not treat a colored man as good as he is treated in your state. That is one grand mistake you have made. There are lots of colored people out here and they are treated as good as they can be in churches, or theaters, or eating houses, and the climate is very much the same all the year around. You say you would like to know whether or not I was writing to the girl's parent, or whether this is something to be done by the community. I would like to know whether or not I was writing to the girl's parent, or whether this is something to be done by the community.

mercenary being, and is not probably worth one-tenth of the sum which his correspondence implies that he would give. The whole proceedings were instituted as a ruse to ascertain the value of the man who was in command about selling his honor and his character for a few paltry dollars.

FARM AND ALLIANCE NOTES.

—An Alliance mass meeting will be held in Thomaspark the first of May.

—The Farmers' Alliance, of Dawson county, order has a bright future in that section.

—Dr. DeFarnett, president of the Putnam county Alliance, says the co-operative plan has proved entirely satisfactory and successful in that county.

—The county alliance of Gwinnett county favors the holding of primaries in the different militia districts to nominate candidates for the general assembly, and for delegates to the next congressional convention and for governor.

—Gwinnett Herald: The amount of guano used in this county increases every year. This looks like an increase in the cotton acreage. It would be better if our farmers would increase the corn crop, and cut down on cotton.

—Speaking for Laurens county, the Dublin, Ga., Post asserts that the alliance has been the pecuniary salvation of the farmers of that county in the purchase of guano alone. It has saved the people from two to ten dollars per ton. In this one purchase it has saved the farmers of Laurens county, this year, over ten thousand dollars.

The "World's" Anger.

From the Athens Banner.

The newspapers of Georgia have made the New York World mad because they resent its sensational attacks upon the south. The World says that some unjust things about THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION and Editor Clark Howell, but coming as they do from the editor of the World, the remarks will be construed as complimentary by the people of Georgia. The World is a south-hating paper, and its display of temper proves the loyalty of THE CONSTITUTION to northern principles and southern honor.

Bere the Palm, as Usual.

From the Athens Banner.

It seems that all of the leading state papers exerted themselves in securing full reports of the McGregor trial, just finished at Warrenton. THE CONSTITUTION, as usual, bore the palm of conquest in the race, and Jon Ohl is the toast of all spirited newspaper men who are awake to such rackets.

The fact is, there is not a more promising journalist in the south than Joe Ohl, city editor of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Longevity and Heredity.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

We have no faith in the longevity of families, or rather in hereditary longevity. I know it often happens that a long-lived father has a son who arrives at a good old age, but it is rather the habits that are inherited than any excessive ability to withstand the ravages of time and disease. I remember many years ago in Ireland, when quite a boy, talking to a man whose father, grandfather and great-grandfather had all been among those whom the gods love. "I am only tenant for life," he explained, in answer to an argument, "and you know our family are always short-lived." Last week I saw a notice of this gentleman's death, the age of 92. He did not copy his ancestors' habits, but had enough sense to live temperately and live long.

A Fine Editorial.

From the Carnesville, Ga., Enterprise.

The editorial, "Twenty-five Years After Appomattox," which appeared in THE CONSTITUTION the 6th instant, and which we reproduce elsewhere, deserves to be classed with the very best of Mr. Grady's great writings. It spoke Mr. Grady's great mind, always an optimist, and giving the south the preponderance of favorable events. The editorial was written by Mr. Wallace T. Reed.

METHODIST MISSIONARY MEETING.

Held at the First Methodist Church Yesterday Morning—What Was Done.

The semi-annual meeting of the board of missions of the North Georgia conference, was held in the lecture room of the First Methodist church yesterday morning.

The meeting was a very interesting one, and the reports showed great progress all along the line.

One of the most important interests considered by the board was the Young L. G. Harris college, located in Towns county. This school, its friends claim, will work a complete moral revolution in that section of the state.

The board unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this board is gratified at the increasing interest manifested by the public in the Young L. G. Harris college, and also by the splendid work which the institution is shown to be doing. We have heard, with much interest, the report of the report of the committee appointed by the North Georgia conference, to visit the institution with a view of ascertaining the needs of the school and securing money to meet them, and

Resolved 2d, That we do most heartily approve the action of the said committee in asking for thirty-five hundred dollars, for building, repairing and buying more land upon which to build.

Resolved, third, That we most earnestly commend to our pastors and to our churches the work of Rev. M. J. Cofer, the financial agent of this school, and ask that the people co-operate with him in the efforts he is making and will continue to make in the interest of this institution.

The receipts of the board to date for foreign and domestic missions are larger than for years past.

Among the ministers in attendance were:

Dr. J. Adams, P. A. Heard, W. F. Glavin, J. T. Gibson, M. J. Cofer, J. H. Baxter, G. W. Thomas, J. E. England, W. F. Robinson, T. F. Pierce, H. M. Quillain and J. S. Stewart, treasurer.

ST. PAUL'S REVIVAL.

The Grand Work Still Going on at the Church.

St. Paul's church revival continues without abatement in the good work.

For three weeks it has been going on, and during the time there have been fifteen accessions to the church, besides a number who have joined by letter.

The enthusiasm evinced by the large congregations which have been in constant attendance, has been something wonderful. At times there were forty or fifty penitents kneeling before the altar, and a fervent religious spirit has pervaded all the meetings.

Rev. Mr. Underwood, pastor of the church, has been assisted by a number of his co-laborers, and a vast amount of good has been accomplished. The meetings will continue until Sunday at least, and may be carried on for a still longer period.

The learned and sacred professions, the press, the mercantile, manufacturing, agricultural and mining communities have, for the past thirty years, been furnishing each their quota of testimony in its behalf, until that has reached unenvied but gratifying proportions, affording unequivocal proof that the public is discerning.

Look Out and Save Your Money for This Sale!

DON'T SAY

"I DIDN'T KNOW IT!"

The Constitution advertises it in the morning, when you wake up—the Journal reminds you of it in the evening when you go to bed—the bill-poster will spread it on every fence in the county. This beautiful tract of property is situated on the most magnificent eminence in Fulton county, where any one standing on the crest of the hill can overlook the entire surrounding country, and see the base of nearly every house on Peachtree street.

On this spot was located the battery from which General Sherman ordered the first gun fired that commenced the historical shelling and ultimate destruction of Atlanta, but out of the ashes of desolation, Atlanta, Phoenix-like, has risen, and now stands prominent the PHENOMENAL CITY OF THE WORLD; and this especial tract, COPENHILL, which will ever be marked and known in history, consecrated in the hearts of Atlanta citizens, has been selected and dedicated by the owners as the creme de la creme Residence Park of the South; every lot in it is an Aristocrat and Patriarch, and traces its ancestry, with an unblemished record, through the Calhouns back to the Governor of the state of Georgia.

Major Charles Boeckh, that most accomplished Hungarian landscape engineer, has been at work on this property for three past months, accomplishing everything that genius could suggest, backed by unlimited capital and carte blanche orders. In the language of the immortal John Robinson, "These lots must be seen to be appreciated."

Now, a brief resume: This property is situated in northeast Atlanta, South of Piedmont park. North of Inman park. West and northwest of Edgewood. Is accessible by rapid transit on the Highland avenue elegant electric coaches—city terminus on Broad street. Don't wait for the day of sale, but call in and get a plat, go out and select a lot. FIRE BUGS.

SOMEONE SETTING FIRE TO THE STABLES IN THE CITY.

One Boy Is Caught but He Claims That He Is Not the Guilty One—Suspensions of the Police.

The fire bugs are getting in their nefarious work in the city of Atlanta.

Yesterday was the 16th of April, and up to date there have been twenty-one fires in the city during the month.

Some of these occurred yesterday and the day before, and were evidently of incendiary origin. They were confined to stables filled with hay, easily ignited and highly inflammable.

Mr. Gammon's stable was first, Mr. Tye's followed a few hours later.

Both are on or near West Peters street. Yesterday morning, about 9:30 o'clock, an alarm was sent in from West Peters, beyond the railroad, and the blaze was located in the rear of the Conant property.

It was another stable, occupied by a Mr. Williams.

The fire was confined to the hay and straw, and by the promptitude of the department was soon extinguished.

About 2:30 o'clock an alarm came in from the same place, and the department again extinguished the blaze with little damage.

Suspensions of the Police.

The frequency of these fires, all of a similar nature and in the same locality, excited the suspicions of the police.

Sergeant Mike White proceeded to investigate the matter. He learned from some ladies living near the last fire that a white youth, about fourteen years old, had been seen near the stable, and that he came out of it not two minutes before the alarm sounded.

Just before the second alarm he was again seen near the stable, acting suspiciously. They gave a description of the boy, and Sergeant White arrested a lad named B. K. Oakes and carried him to the station house.

There the boy was taken upstairs and asked about the fires, but he protested his innocence, saying that he went into the stable, but that he saw two negro boys in there, who ran as soon as they saw him. The boy said he knew nothing of the origin of the fire, and nothing could be got out of him concerning it.

He was locked up up to the next morning, and the investigation of the facts in the case.

IT LOOKS LIKE INCENDIARISM.

Chief Joyner's suspicions were aroused by the frequent recurrence of these fires, and he is inclined to believe that there is a gang of idle and malicious boys who are doing the nefarious business.

All the stable fires have originated in some mysterious manner, and all of them have burst up suddenly from a pile of straw or hay.

It is evidently the work of incendiaries, and looks like it is being done more for the simple love of malicious mischief than anything else.

There can be no hope for gain, in the way of pilfering the burned buildings; but being situated in the center of a large business section, it is extremely difficult, and it is thought that the boys sneak in there and set them on fire simply to see them burn.

THE BROAD STREET BRIDGE.

Architect Lind Has a Suggestion Which Reads Nicely.

Mr. E. G. Lind, the well-known architect, has a suggestion about the Broad street bridge.

Here it is:

"It is," said he, yesterday, "my lot in common with many other unfortunate, to make constant pilgrimages to and from Broad street bridge, and, of course, I have not failed to recognize the fact that something better might be contrived for the safety and comfort of both pedestrians and equestrians. My suggestion for the remedy is to construct a strong and substantial bridge in place of the present rickety structure and have it paved with Belgian block the same as Broad street; to extend the bridge on either side some twenty feet or more over the railroad track and construct neat one-story shops, which would be very desirable either for stationery, cigars, etc., or real estate and other offices. Some seven or eight of these could be constructed on each side of the bridge, the rental from each would pay a fair interest on the amount necessary to expend for the improvement. The value of property in the immediate vicinity would be enhanced and the comfort and happiness of Atlanta's people when there or thereabouts would be perfect."

TO WARRANT MORTGAGES.

Application for Charter for the Atlanta Mortgage Security Company.

Messrs. Charles S. Kingsberry, C. G. Atkins, J. W. Goldsmith, Joseph H. Johnson and Malcolm Johnson yesterday made application for charter for the Atlanta Mortgage Security company.

As recited in the paper, the objects and purposes for which the corporation is intended are to loan money, taking as security deeds and mortgages or personal property, collateral, personal security or indorsement, and to sell, negotiate, hypothecate or otherwise dispose of the same. Also to negotiate loans, lend and borrow money on commission, and warrant to lender the repayment of sums advanced on mortgages.

The capital stock of the company is put at $25,000, with privilege to increase to $100,000. Shares are $100 each, and the application states that $2,500 has actually been paid in by the subscribers.

YOUR OWN LIFE.

May Be Saved If You Will Think of Yourself When Brought to Bed.

Ulceration of the bowels, usually called "itching piles," is a very common affliction, and not causing much pain is usually considered of small importance, and the disease is allowed to develop into a very grave affliction. The symptoms of this trouble are moisture and itching around the anus, pain across the hips (low down), diarrhoea, and irregular bowels, pain in lower part of same, indigestion, and a long train of nervous symptoms, differing in many respects, in men and women, many symptoms usually attributed to female diseases. This disease is a very fruitful cause of many diseases refusing to yield to the treatment of your physician, and places you on the list of incurables. The results of neglecting this affliction are terrible to contemplate, a general impairment of health, frequently so slow as to be scarcely noticeable, disfigurement of the nervous system, unfitting you for business or enjoyment of pleasure, the development of cancer and structure of bowels, or loss of power of controlling same when happily death intervenes and relieves the sufferer of his tortures. This is a terrible picture, but a true one. You may by neglect make this your own; can you take the risk when a cure is offered you? Treating radical diseases exclusively for a number of years, I am able to offer you a cure without the usual pain attending the treatment employed by one who has not the experience in treating these diseases. The mode of treatment I employ for your cure is mild and is not unpleasant in any way, as I use neither knife or caustic applied to the bowels. I have cured many, and I am willing that they should tell you of my success if you wish. On my next success I am willing to stand or fall. Can I offer you anything more? If you wish to investigate what I have said, I extend to you an invitation to consult me (free of cost), and I will prove all I have said to the satisfaction of the most skeptical. CONCORDIA ASSOCIATION.

After Twenty-three Years' Existence, Still Flourishing.

Concordia association.

Possibly there is no more flourishing social organization in the country than that.

On April 15, 1867, twenty-three years ago, this association was formed.

Mr. Fred Schiff, one of the most indefatigable workers among the Hebrew elders of the city, helped to organize the association, which had its first quarters in a little room over the old store occupied by M. Rich & Bros., now the trunk store of Lieberman & Kaufman.

Messrs. Schiff and A. Rosenfeld are about the only charter members of the association now living in the city, who helped to organize and fostered this association, which has been a source of so much enjoyment to the Hebrew citizens of Atlanta. These were troublous times when Concordia association was organized.

The federal government was in the city, and it was a hard matter for such a thing to exist unmolested in those days.

But Concordia grew and thrived, and after a time the quarters were changed to a room on Mitchell street, where the association remained for some time.

From there it was removed to Concordia hall, as it now exists, and when the twenty-third anniversary was celebrated Tuesday evening. There are now one hundred and ten members, and the association is out of debt and has a nice surplus in the treasury. This is all done by the payment of one dollar and fifty cents a month dues for each member.

The entertainments that are given by the association from time to time are always of the most elegant kind, and nothing is ever left undone that will contribute to the perfect enjoyment of the entertainments.

Concordia will, within the next twelve months, begin work on the new building at the intersection of Whitehall, Forsyth and Fair streets, and hope to be able to celebrate the next anniversary of the association in the new hall. It will be one of the most spacious, commodious and well appointed halls in the city when completed, and will be an ornament to the city and a source of pride to the association which has planned it and has the money ready to pay for its erection.

THE FIRE DRILL.

Another Case Where Its Efficacy Was Demonstrated.

There was an alarm of fire at Boulevard school yesterday morning.

Chief Joyner was privately notified and went out in his wagon and found the fire located under the closets.

The origin of the blaze was too much fire used in the apparatus which heats the building. The fuel system is in operation there, and while this system is one of the most satisfactory in use in the city, it has its disadvantages when there is any imperfection in the construction of the apparatus. That was the trouble yesterday morning.

The children were pretty badly frightened when they found that there was danger, but so soon as Chief Joyner arrived they were put through the fire drill, which they executed in the most satisfactory manner.

They were soon out of the building, and no harm was done. The damage was very slight, but might have been serious had Chief Joyner not arrived just in time.

The advantage of the fire drill, through which the pupils of all the schools are put at regular intervals, becomes more and more obvious every time a fire occurs in or near a school building.

"That tired feeling" is entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives a feeling of buoyancy and strength to the whole system.

In 1850 "Brown's Bronchial Troches" were introduced, and their success as a cure of Coughs, Asthma, and Bronchitis has been unparalleled.

To tone up the system and stimulate the appetite, take Angostura Bitters. Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons, sole manufacturers. At all druggists.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness or constipation, you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

The Coming Spring Bee.

The busy bees are beginning to swarm and a bee of the name of "The Coming Spring Bee" is a thrill of dramatic interest pervaded the number yesterday when it became known that Mr. Scott Thornton had been elected to the list.

Mr. Thornton's friends insist that he will rise above the petty rivalry of orthography and rival in the more artistic realm of the pen, system, and that with the spirit of the indomitable Lincoln and the skill of the witty Richelieu, he will stand out as a leader of the South.

There appears in another column of today's paper the semi-annual statement of the Capital City Bank. The result of the past six months' business is very satisfactory to the directors and stockholders.

This is one of the youngest banks in the city, yet it has attained to the largest proportions, and is doing a business second to none. The increase in its deposits during the past year have been wonderful.

The success the Capital City bank has achieved reflects great credit upon its officers.

How to Grow Beautiful.

She knew it was necessary to become beautiful in order to be considered attractive, and so she made the art of beautifying a study. She felt it wiser to be plump and hearty than to be thin and delicate. To this end she knew good health was essential. She had suffered from backaches, sideaches, and bearing down pains, and was restless until she found the medicine she needed. It improved her appetite and digestion. Her habits became regular. Her flesh increased and became more firm and solid. Her complexion became clear and beautiful and free from pimples. Her hair grew red and her cheeks grew rosy. She did not know an ache or a pain. Exercise gave her pleasure and she became the life of her companions. She could ride a bicycle for many miles and never seem to grow weary. Her laughter was catching and all the young men loved her. She is now a happy wife and mother. Who was she? What was her name? Well, no matter, let us know the medicine she used. With pleasure, with pleasure, sweet girls. She used Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla. If any there be among you who are sickly, go quickly and do likewise.—Mansfield Independent.

I have been a sufferer from weakness for eight years and tried many remedies that did me no good. My father got me to try Bull's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken a half bottle I felt a great deal better. I now enjoy a regularity of habit that has not been the case for many years.—Sarah E. Keller, Ottawa, Kas.

H. L. WILSON AND KROUSE & WELCH,

Auctioneers.

This property lies on the dummy railroad, fronting South Boulevard; looking out upon Grant Park on the one side and the beautiful Confederate grounds upon the other. The view and surroundings are grand. The elegant Confederate Home building looms up in the east a perfect picture of beauty and elegance.

This part of the city is developing more rapidly than any part of South Atlanta. This property is covered with a magnificent growth of original shade trees. The approach through the park is always pleasant and attractive.

Atlanta is making rapid strides to show a population of over 100,000 people; first-class and choice lots will be more sought after each year. Then buy now; because you can fix your own price. When the Boulevard is completed to its southern terminus, the very lots we sell you now will be worth two and three times as much as you pay at this sale.

Every person that has invested in good real estate in this place since it was Marshaville has made money. If any one desires to pay all cash for his lot, we will arrange to secure for him a loan with which he can build and pay back the same in monthly installments.

A free lunch will be spread on the grounds at precisely 12 o'clock noon, immediately after which the sale will begin. Every lot will be sold on its merits. Terms—One-third cash, balance six and twelve months, with eight per cent interest. For plats apply to

23--Copenhill Lots--23
HIGHEST EMINENCE. BEAUTIFUL NATURAL TRACT. ARTISTICALLY LANDSCAPED

TRAVERSED BY ELECTRIC CARS

ON—
TUESDAY, April 22, 1890, at 3 p. m.

I will sell upon the premises 23 of the choicest selected lots of the Copenhill Land Company.

Situated in Northeast Atlanta, on that beautiful historical hill immediately north of Inman Park. This is the first of a series of sales to be held by the Copenhill Land Co., who own about 200 acres of picturesque park land, on which they intend to do nothing that brains, money and art can do to render it the most desirable residence park in the south. The landscape engineering is under the supervision of Major Chas. Borch, who has with him a corps of workmen NOW AT WORK, and for two past months, grading wide, winding avenues, trimming groves, shaping residence lots, and interspersing the whole tract with picturesque Park spots and silvery spring lakes.

Rapid transit from suburb to city is realized at last. The electric cars traverse in a semi circle the entire tract.

The lots to be sold are selected as the prettiest and most attractive of the entire tract, and are put upon the market with a view to let real estate investors know the improvements contemplated and to be carried out.

Every lot put up will be sold absolutely upon its merits, without reserve and without buncombe. Free transportation on electric car to sale and return from Broad street terminus. Call and get a plat and go out with your family and select a lot and attend the sale.

TERMS—One-third cash, 1 and 2 years; 8 per cent interest.
